

Feeling anxious or worried is a normal experience for children.

But when anxious feelings stick around, are too intense, or lead to avoiding things, it might be called an anxiety disorder.

